

Inequality and the Public University

Thursday, October 20, 2016

4 – 5:15 pm, Wisconsin Idea Room, 141 Education Building

Laura Hamilton and Nancy Kendall will each draw upon their research and experiences to answer:

How does inequality get reproduced within the university?

What, if anything, can universities do to undo, or mitigate, these trends?

Join our public discussion, participate in small group conversations and exchange ideas with the featured speakers.

Speakers

LAURA T. HAMILTON

Associate Professor of Sociology, University of California-Merced

Author of Parenting to a Degree and co-author of Paying for the Party

NANCY KENDALL

Associate Professor Educational Policy Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison

Author of The Sex Education Debates and co-principal investigator of “Constructing Affordability: How Institutional and Relational Contexts Affect Retention of Undergraduates from Low-Income Families.”

Moderator

JENNIFER MORTON

Assistant Professor Philosophy, City College of New York

THE CENTER FOR
ETHICS & EDUCATION

Wisconsin Center for Education Research
SCHOOL OF EDUCATION
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON